Tibetan Buddhist Practice & Retreat

Start Where You Are

Tashi Delek!

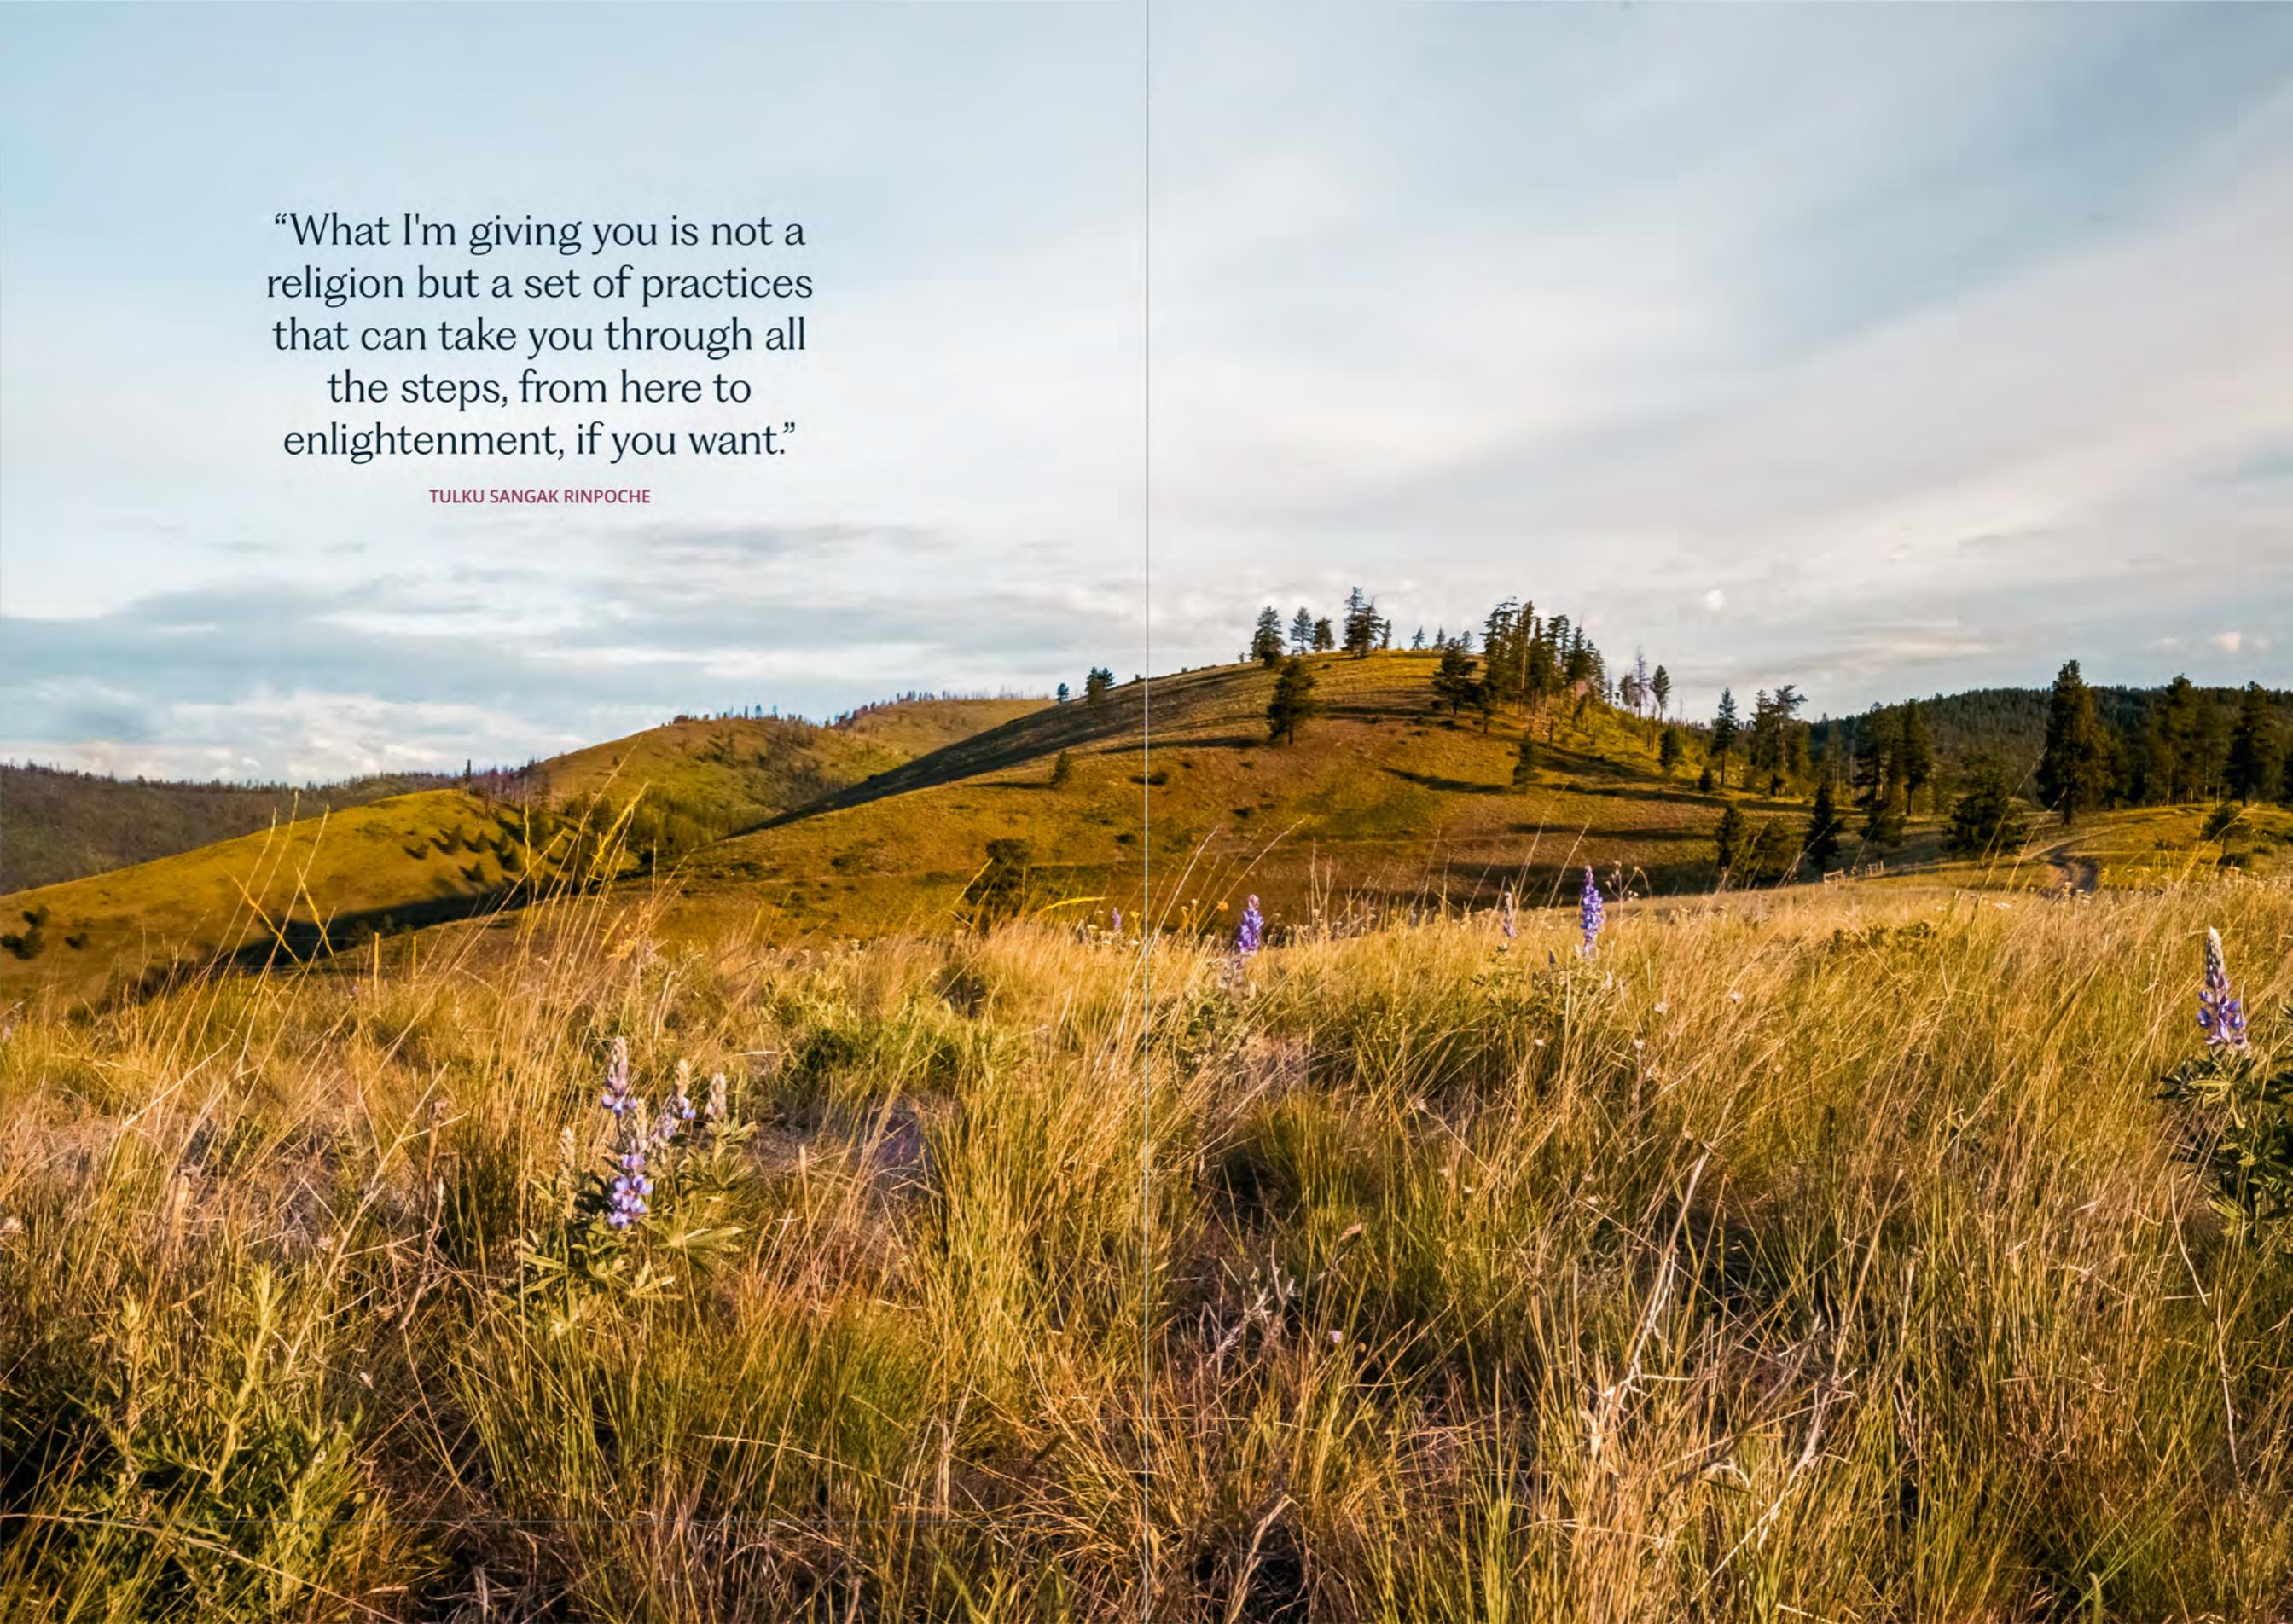

Greetings and Well Wishes!

At Namchak, students are welcomed into a tapestry of authentic Tibetan Buddhist teachings, heartfelt guidance from both Western and Tibetan teachers, and a vibrant community rooted in shared practice. Whether you're joining us online or at the Namchak Retreat Ranch in Montana, you'll find programs that meet you wherever you are on the path, from your first steps in meditation to deepening, long-term practice. Take a wander through this catalog and discover the path that calls to you.

“What I'm giving you is not a religion but a set of practices that can take you through all the steps, from here to enlightenment, if you want.”

TULKU SANGAK RINPOCHE

Namchak Retreat Ranch

At the Namchak Foundation, we share the heart of the Namchak lineage through meditation, study, retreat, and community, gently bridging the Tibetan and Western worlds. The Namchak lineage represents a branch of the unbroken stream of wisdom teachings, tracing back over 2,500 years to the historical Buddha, Buddha Shakyamuni. Through generations of dedicated practitioners, these teachings have been practiced, realized, and passed down so that you, too, can benefit from their transformative power.

Where Ancient Wisdom, Modern Life, and the Natural World Meet

The Namchak Retreat Ranch is situated in the traditional homelands of the Séliš (Salish) and Qlispé (Kalispel) peoples. We offer our respect for their history and culture, for their ancient and continuing presence in this landscape, and for the path they have shown us in caring for this place for the generations to come.

● BODHISATTVA'S PATH PROGRAMS

Three-Year Retreat

The Tibetan word for retreat, tsam, means "boundary." It marks a sacred commitment, stepping away from the comforts and distractions of daily life and into a container where profound transformation can unfold.

The Namchak Three-Year Retreat offers dedicated Vajrayana practitioners the rare opportunity to commit themselves fully to the path of realization. This program requires prior experience with Vajrayana practice; applicants should have completed foundational Buddhist study and retreat. Guided by Tulku Sangak Rinpoche, the world lineage holder of the Namchak lineage, this program continues an unbroken stream of teachings passed directly from teacher to student for centuries.

In the Namchak tradition, practitioners dedicate themselves to a structured meditation schedule, mantra recitation, ritual, and studying Namchak lineage texts. Participation in the retreat is limited to those who have been accepted through an application process that verifies adequate preparation. The retreat curriculum has been personally designed by Rinpoche and translated with his guidance, maintaining the complete integrity of the Namchak lineage while offering accessibility to Western students.

Preparation for Three Year Retreat participants will begin in 2027–2028
